We listen carefully to your automation and labor-saving needs and propose the best automation equipment, including software development. We produce most of our machine parts in-house, to assure you of the highest standards in quality control.

▶ Specialized Products, Technologies and Services

Technologies in which we specialize

We provide special-order production equipment at reasonable prices. Examples include a variety of assembly equipment and appearance-inspection equipment that can discover and sort foreign matter as small as 5 microns in diameter.

A full range of consulting and maintenance services

Tell us about the problems you're experiencing in your production lines in terms of quality and cost, and we will provide you with consulting free of charge. We boast an extensive track record in sales to China and the ASEAN region. We also provide assured local maintenance services through our dealerships.

Future prospects and challenges

We are considering building a sales network in Europe. To that end we are searching for dealers with expertise in automation equipment.

Our staff includes speakers of English and Chinese. Please feel free to contact us.
